FI NANCE AND TRADE

Ot R REVIEW of the 'estion market last week quoted mid dling cotton in New York at 16;c, F.4 which figure it rem whed the whole week. New Orleans was 15to, declined on Tuesday to 15to, on Friday again was at 15 jc. Liverpool quoted vid, and so remained. Memphis quoted f.57 c, which fell on Tuesday to 15 I-16c, but on Turrsday was again 15 is. This s' at emen', shows an unchanged market, throo ghout, the prices being everywi gere W day what they were a week ago. The inquiry is now mo stly for the fire a grades of cotton, and ney are held with more firmness than in the middle the week, when a Peavy feeling setsed on the market, Fo that on Tuesday the whole day's as amounted only to 250 bales, the shr rtest sale of any day since the secor d week in September rieveral buye's have left us this week, and business is looking very quiet. Prices for the rest of the reason will be governed, principally, by the nature of the tidir as respecting the growing crop. Thoug's late, owing to protracted cold wealther, no evil tidings have been received of the crop, and it is under-alored that the laborers are working well. The New York Bulletin of Friday resported; "With considerable purchases are last evening by exporters, and a larger amount than usual taken by miners, followed to-day by continued fair purchases on foreign account, the aggregate business foots up quite full on spots. The official quotations are without change, but the effect of the increased business is naturally strengthening, and the majority of holders are un-willing now to open negotiations except at about 1-16@ic above the figures named, especially as the foreign accounts are firmer. The inquiry for export appears to have been quite general, and we understand that both English and continental operators have been well represented. At the close there | ton, 78c; Baltimore, 63c; Lawrence, -was still some looking at ound, but a reduced amount of busine a doing, owing to the stiffer itiess of stillers and greater

For forw and delivery the operators for a rise b ave naturally had the advantage, with the better tone of the Liverpool street, and the increase of the move ment of actual cotton, the point up in the market has been hang- to sell, and in some cases offered strong ing for some time past. 18,959 We are now in the middle of May, but the activity it was hoped spring would bring with it, has never yet manifested 152 324 itself. The Baltimore Gazette of Thurs-152 535 day reports: "There is nothing especially encouraging in the business situation, and we have still to report trade generally dull, with the prospects not fixter-ing for any immediate change for the better. Money is abundant here as well as at all the other principal commercial 4,827 centers, and capitalists find it difficult to employ their funds except at very low rates of interest." No more, no less," Jest so, jedge, jest so. St. Louis's aspirations to be monarch of Big Muddy cannot get over the effect of past offenses ...... The addition and ornamentation to the chimneys of the A. J. White have contributed to the more comely proportion of that now one of the handsomest steamers running into Memphis. We are informed that the work has been done under the instruction and in exact accordance with the taste of Captain Malone, her commander, who contemplates other additions to her, which, when completed, will make her a "thing of beauty and a joy forever." The White, even as she is, was the admiration of all beholders this trip, and Captain Malone received many compliments for the good taste he has displayed in "re-organizing" his pretty boat ..... The Cincinnati bethel is evangeitzing her marine element by distrib-uting tracts, hymns, etc., on each packet leaving that port. The Thompson Dean was well supplied, and Rev. Dr. Planck, a resident minister of Port Gibson, Mississippi, being a passenger on board called the passengers and officers of the boat to divine worship Sunday morning, which was participated in by all with the utmost sincerity. It is good work that is sure to yield good fruits. What is the Memphis bethel doing?.......Capain Darragh, of the burned steamer Paragon, and Wash Floyd, clerk of the Exporter, were passengers on the Great Republic Sunday.....The departing packets the past two days got away with middling trips, on the average.....The consolidation of the St. Louis Democrat and Globe throws out Mr. Ryland, who has been river reporter of the Democrat for twenty-five years.....The Knights of Pythias picnic comes off to-day, for which arrangements have been made on a scale of grandeur that will render it one of the most enjoyable festivals ever given in the city. The fryingpan brigade succeeded in making their departure from and return to the city unobserved last Sunday ..... A St. Louis telegram of yesterday has the following: "The entire stock of the John B. Maud transportation company, seven hundred and fifty shares, was sold to-day, on private terms, to Captain J. J. West and Captain Jake Swivel. She will be commanded by Captain West, and Captain Swivel will have charge of the office. Theodore Laveilles bought one hundred shares in the Bismarck transportation company, one-eighth of the value of the steamer, sold on 'change to-day, to Captain John P. Kisser, superintendent of the Anchor line, for eleven dollars and a half per share. Major Whiting, member of Congress from the Peorla (Illinois) district, left tonight for Cincinnati and Pittsburg, to purchase a steamer for the St. Louis and Illinois river trade."...
